Preface

The Trio Suite for two violins and viola was written in London in March 1937. By this time Peter Gellhorn was working as a ‘resident volunteer’ at Toynbee Hall, where he taught music, directed ensembles, and composed incidental music for the theatre group.¹

Editorial Statement

A collection of Peter Gellhorn’s papers, including autograph manuscripts for all of his extant compositions, was donated to the British Library on 30th April 2010 and 20th July 2011 as Music Deposit 2010/15. The official reference for the collection is now MS Mus. 1800, and a complete catalogue can be found at www.petergellhorn.com/sheet-music. Alongside sketches and drafts, the composition manuscripts include a number of autograph fair copies, written in ink, clearly notated, and with few corrections, suggesting that Gellhorn intended them to be regarded as authoritative. It has therefore been possible to make urtext editions of these works, accurately conveying Gellhorn’s intentions. Some minor corrections and changes to formatting have been made so that the scores are ready for use by performers, in keeping with the ethos of the RCM Editions. On a similar basis, any specific modifications are outlined in the preface to each work, rather than using editorial brackets in the score, in order to reduce clutter on the page and to ensure easy reading. For an overarching outline of the approach to transcription, see “The Peter Gellhorn Edition: General Statement”, available at www.petergellhorn.com/sheet-music and at researchonline.rcm.ac.uk/69/.

Sources

The Gellhorn Papers contain four autograph manuscripts for the Trio Suite, catalogued under MS Mus. 1800/4/2 Orchestral and instrumental music; 1937: a pencil draft, and a complete set of three fair parts. The fair parts have been used as the primary copy texts for the present edition as, in the absence of a fair autograph score (which appears to have gone missing), they represent the most accurate sources. Some of the parts contain performance markings written in pencil, but since these are all in other hands they have not been included in the present edition. The draft score has been used to used to clarify any ambiguities.

The fair parts are written in black ink on 12-stave printed (but non-watermarked) manuscript paper. The Violin 1 part is formed from two bifolios with one interpolated folio, while the Violin 2 and Viola parts are both formed from one bifolio containing three folios, with all three making unbound ten-page booklets measuring 304mm by 208mm. The contents are identical in all three parts:

[i]: Title page
[ii]: Blank page
p.1: First movement
p.2: Second and third movement
p.3: Fourth movement
p.4: Fifth movement
p.5: Sixth movement
[iii-v]: Blank pages

Specific Editorial Remarks

The main editorial result of using the fair parts to recreate a score is the need to modify the positioning of first- and second-time bar markings. Gellhorn placed them differently in each part depending on the material being repeated, whereas in the present edition they have, by necessity, been placed in the same position across all parts.

The following minor corrections have also been made:

Movement 1 measure 15 beat 1: the B♭ in the viola has been changed to an A♯ to neaten the subsequent tie.

Movt.1 m. 22 b.2: the "solo" marking in the viola has not been transferred to the score, though it has been preserved in the part.

Movt.6 m.13-15: a slur has been added to the second violin to match the first violin.

Movt.6 m.41 b.1-2: a beam has been removed in the first violin part to match the viola.
